Continental Finance Co. INVESTIGATION

Recent Newspaper Attacks Upon
This Company Without Foundation.

Investigation Shows the Company to be Upon a Solid Basis and Conducting a Legitimate Business.

The Oklahoma papers have had much to say of late about The Continental Finance Company of Chicago, and the possibility of an investigation of this company by the Post Office department.—Well, this investigation has taken place and the company is still in business.

The fact of the matter is, the Continental Finance company is conducting business on strictly reliable lines. Leaving their plan upon the idea that it is just as reasonable and just as safe to loan a sum of money to a selected live person, as it is to pay the same amount to the estate of a dead person, as is the case with life insurance. They believe that a live man's note is just as valuable as a dead man's receipt, but as it takes time, money and process to bring about results with anything that is legitimate, their plan can not be expected to be an exception to the rule. One must apply reasonably to all things, and the proper reasoning applied to the plan of the Continental Finance company can not fail to convince anyone that it is based on good business principles and sound ethics, and is as enduring as the rocks of ages. It cannot fail, as it has nothing in fail for—it can stand the siege of flood, fire and famine, or the grand combination; it does not owe anybody until it has the money to meet its obligations. It simply proposes to loan the income to its living contract-holders at a nominal rate of interest, rather than wait for them to die and pay it to their estate, as is the plan of life insurance.

The company has been in operation thirty-six months, and within that time has made a record for benefits conferred upon its patrons, that no life insurance company that ever existed has exceeded financially. It is on a more solid basis than ever before, and offered by the same capable, responsible gentlemen as of old, complying with any statute that may affect it where it operates, the Continental Finance company will continue to do an honorable, legitimate business, fulfilling its mission in the world, just the same as any other reputable company organized for mutual benefit.

The company issues Ten Year, Five Per Cent Accumulative Investment Contracts with Low Premiums, underwritings and guarantees mortgages. Its earnings resources are $35,000,000. Hamilton National bank. A thoughtful and conservative investment in these contracts will surely bring satisfactory results to the investor, and for persons already holding contracts it is only a matter of their patience and persistency, when they too will be benefited by their association with The Continental Finance company. If you have a contract with The Continental—KEEP IT UP.
